Client Update No. 16

03 March 2014

Damage to Our Roads: Madokero Estate

We refer to our Client Update number 12, dated 30 October 2013, where it came to our attention that some clients are using more than 30-tonne truckloads to deliver building materials to their stands, causing severe damage to our roads and access culverts.

We strongly implore everyone to exercise due care to avoid unnecessary damage to our road infrastructure. Our roads are made largely for light motor vehicles and not for industrial use and therefore, they are susceptible to failure from excessively heavy loads.

To avoid further damage to the roads, it is now prohibited to deliver loads exceeding 30 tons through our roads. We urge all of us to encourage each other to adhere to these regulations to avoid more destruction to our roads. This is our community and let us protect its infrastructure and beauty together.

On the same vein, we would like to advise that we have taken note of damages caused to some of our roads so far and that we will repair them soon after the rain season.
